INSTITUTE FOR HIGHER EDUCATION | STUDY & RESEARCH IN PORTUGAL

The Institute for Higher Education, I.P. (IES) is a public institute with special status, integrated into the indirect administration of the Portuguese State, with administrative and financial autonomy and its own assets. The IES is responsible for coordinating and implementing public policies in the field of higher education in Portugal, including the management of the Erasmus+ Programme for Education and Training, the promotion of internationalisation, participation in international networks, and the attraction of international students.

Its mission is to support the development, quality and innovation of the Portuguese higher education system, ensuring access, equity and student success, while strengthening institutional capacity and fostering cooperation at national, European and international levels. The IES plays a key role in aligning national higher education policies with broader European priorities, contributing to a more inclusive, competitive and future-oriented education system.

Study & Research in Portugal is a strategic initiative led by the IES to promote Portugal as a destination for international students, researchers and academics. The initiative highlights the country's higher education and research ecosystem, showcasing study programmes, research infrastructures and opportunities across Portuguese institutions.

The platform provides comprehensive and practical information on academic pathways, research opportunities, visas and residence permits, as well as integration and support services for international students and researchers. Through targeted international communication campaigns, participation in global education fairs and partnerships with higher education institutions and international networks, Study & Research in Portugal aims to strengthen the global visibility of Portuguese higher education and research.

By promoting Portugal's academic excellence, openness and quality of life, the initiative contributes to enhancing the country's international attractiveness and reinforcing its position as a welcoming, innovative and competitive destination for study and research.

INSTITUTIONAL INFORMATION

The Polytechnic University of Guarda (IPG) is a public higher education institution dedicated to the training of highly qualified professionals and to the production of relevant knowledge, with a strong connection to its surrounding territory. Located in the city of Guarda, in the heart of the Beira Interior region, IPG plays a crucial role in regional development through the promotion of education, applied research and technology transfer.

With a diversified educational offer covering areas such as Technologies, Health, Education, Tourism, Sport and Management, IPG stands out for its practical approach and its close links to the labour market. Its programmes, ranging from undergraduate degrees, master's and doctoral programmes to Higher Professional Technical Courses (CTeSP), are designed to respond to the needs of the business and social fabric, equipping students with the skills and knowledge required in a constantly evolving world. The institution invests in teaching quality, pedagogical innovation and the promotion of a dynamic and inclusive learning environment, in which internationalisation and academic mobility are central elements.

Beyond its academic mission, IPG is an active centre for research and development, with research centres that contribute to scientific and technological advancement in various fields. Collaboration with companies and other institutions, both nationally and internationally, is a priority, enabling the creation of synergies and the practical application of research results. This strong link to the community and the productive sector reinforces IPG's commitment to being a driving force for progress and innovation in the Guarda region and in the country.

MAIN INTERESTS AND GOALS FOR INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION

The Portuguese Higher Education Universities have been attracting an increasing number of international students either through mobility and exchange programmes or through a general system of access.

The intake of foreign students encourages an increase in internationalization and promotes a wider cooperation and learning space. The Polytechnic of Guarda attracts students from different continents, among whom students from Lusophone countries stand out.

According to the international student statute, all students who do not have Portuguese nationality are included in this category.

The Polytechnic of Guarda is part of the UNITA – Universitas Montium alliance, which brings together 12 universities from seven countries, of different sizes and backgrounds, with more than 248,000 students and 20,000 staff.

INSTITUTIONAL INFORMATION

The University of Coimbra (UC) is a Portuguese public research-oriented university with over 735 years of history. Since then, UC has continued to strengthen its international standing through a combination of Tradition, Modernity and Innovation, and is recognised as a UNESCO World Heritage site, since 2013.

UC is an HEI for creation, critical analysis, transmission and dissemination of culture, science and technology which, by means of research, teaching and community services provision, contributes to the economic and social development, the environmental protection, the promotion of social justice and informed and responsible citizenship, and the consolidation of knowledge-based sovereignty.

Strongly committed to the United Nations 2030 Agenda and the Sustainable Development Goals, UC is the most sustainable university in Portugal, according to Times Higher Education Impact Rankings, 2025.

UC promotes excellence, interdisciplinarity and internationalisation, in alignment with the Horizon Europe pillars: Health; Climate, Energy & Mobility; Natural Resources, Agrifood & Environment; Digital, Industry & Space; Heritage, Culture & Inclusive Society.

MAIN INTERESTS AND GOALS FOR INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION

With a long internationalisation experience, the University of Coimbra is a global academic institution and provides a strong multicultural environment in its 4 campi. It welcomes students from more than 120 nationalities and maintains an extensive network of international partnerships, reflected in around 2,000 Erasmus+ IIA and 300 bilateral agreements worldwide. With more than 20% of its 29,000 students being international, the UC serves as a bridge between Portuguese-speaking communities and the rest of the World.

UC actively promotes the internationalisation of its students and staff through enhanced academic, professional and cultural experiences in education, research and international engagement. UC also plays an active role in the EC2U Alliance, fostering integrated cooperation across Europe. Erasmus+ is a cornerstone of UC's international activity, supporting large-scale mobility and joint academic initiatives, including Erasmus Mundus programmes. Additionally, cooperation with Portuguese-speaking countries remains a strategic priority, reflecting UC's historical, cultural and linguistic ties.

Building on this experience and its participation in international networks such as the Coimbra Group, Utrecht Network and other global consortia (SYLFF Network, Associação de Universidades de Língua Portuguesa), UC is open to a wide range of collaborative initiatives, including:

- International mobility (Students, Staff, Researchers)
- International Masters and PhDs Programs
- Joint Research & Innovation projects.

INSTITUTIONAL INFORMATION

ULisboa is responsible for making the city of Lisbon one of the great European capitals of culture and science, as it welcomes more than 9,000 foreign students every year from more than 100 countries – about 17.5% of its 51,917 students, who are seeking high-quality education as well as different cultural experiences, delightful weather, and the hospitality that Lisbon and Portugal have to offer.

ULisboa is currently Portugal's largest and most well-ranked university and one of Europe's largest. Located in the heart of the city, it provides its entire community with the best and most diverse academic programs and vows to deliver a uniquely enriching experience.

From Lisbon to the World

As an institution of education and science committed to the progress of society, ULisboa is based on the creation, transfer, and social and economic reinforcement of knowledge and culture.

ULisboa is set on promoting its cohesion and spirit of identity; on attracting the best students; on fostering interaction with industry and public authorities; on encouraging the renewal, qualification, and mobility of human resources; on reinforcing its intervention and influence skills within strategic international scenarios; on the consolidation of a Quality Management System; on providing culture for the university and for the city of Lisbon; on encouraging social responsibility and sports, health, and well-being, as well as improving the infrastructures available for the academic community.

ULisboa's values:

Intellectual freedom and respect for ethics; societal innovation and development; democratic participation; social and environmental responsibility.

MAIN INTERESTS AND GOALS FOR INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION

ULisboa offers extensive possibilities for international mobility through bilateral partnerships with institutions of international prestige, as well as through the opportunities offered by its participation in the Erasmus+ Programme. The Erasmus+ Programme plays a central role within ULisboa's internationalization strategy, offering students and staff the possibility to participate in various European and international academic experiences during their studies.

Currently, ULisboa takes part in the different actions of the Erasmus+ and Horizon2020 Programmes. ULisboa is part of the Unite! alliance, one of the European Universities created in 2019 in the framework of the Erasmus+ Programme. In 2020, the Unite! alliance was reinforced in its research and innovation dimensions, as one of the selected projects from Horizon2020.

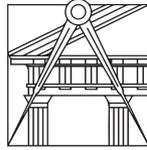

ULisboa intends to strengthen its potential for intervention and influence in strategic international areas by maintaining a strong focus on Portuguese-speaking countries and by contributing to a broader use of the language as an institution of reference in teaching Portuguese as a foreign language. By establishing new partnerships, ULisboa seeks to attract an increasing number of international students and to promote international cooperation by establishing agreements for scientific and academic cooperation with higher education institutions in different countries outside the EU. Agreements and existing partnerships contemplate the different study cycles and joint degrees.

Last but not least, ULisboa's network of strategic industry, corporate, public and civil society partnerships has a footprint through the world, as well as the innovations and entrepreneurial minds based or born in the institution which prove a major impact on a number of Sustainable Development Goals

Técnico Lisboa is the School of Architecture, Engineering, Science and Technology of the University of Lisbon, known in Portuguese as Instituto Superior Técnico (IST). Técnico was created in 1911 and since then, a thorough education in basic sciences, complemented by specialized training that is kept up-to-date with technological progress, has always been the basis of IST's educational system. It is also the key to the high quality of engineers that the school has trained generation after generation and the important role that many of them have played in Portugal's development. Since its foundation, IST has continued to grow in terms of quality and quantity, making increasingly important contributions to Portugal's social and economic development. High-quality university education and R&D, in increasing synergy with the economic sector, are the hallmarks of today's IST. This is why it is considered, both in Portugal and abroad, as one of the great schools of engineering, science and technology, on a par with the best Schools in the world. Técnico has 3 campuses with privileged access to Lisbon's main points of interest and a wide range of cultural, leisure and sports activities.

MAIN INTERESTS AND GOALS FOR INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION

Técnico offers Bachelor, Master and PhD programmes, Lifelong Training, Short Courses and Research, Development and Innovation (RD&I) activities, which are essential to provide an education based on the top international standards. It's a school highly internationalized, which promotes the relationship between university-business-society and encourages innovation, entrepreneurship, job creation and knowledge.

Técnico has strengthened its international partnerships and its presence in international mobility programmes with the best Schools in the world. The partnerships cover about 50 countries, across the 5 continents and the international collaboration focus on enhancing teaching and student learning through the development of cross-border partnerships for collaborative projects, research, exchanges or degree programmes and on strengthening the development of partnerships with highly ranked institutions.

RD&I activities cover a wide range of topics, from key aspects to projects with a strong involvement of industry. In this sense, Técnico also aims to establish and to develop strategic alliances with well positioned HEI and companies, in order to add more value to society. It is our goal to provide opportunities for internships, experiential learning and community engagement. Addressing complex global challenges and contributing to a fairer world requires a new generation of professionals trained with a new mindset and strong scientific and technical skills in emerging areas.
